

ENGAGING PARTICULARITIES

PRESENTS

John Makransky

*Associate Professor of Comparative Theology
Boston College*

John Makransky is Associate Professor of Buddhism and Comparative Theology at Boston College, past President of the Buddhist-Christian Studies Society, and co-founder of the Courage of Care Coalition and Foundation for Active Compassion. John's academic writings focus on enlightenment in Indian and Tibetan Buddhism, on applying Buddhist practices to meet current needs in conversation with psychology and neuroscience, and on theoretical issues in interfaith learning. John is the developer of Sustainable Compassion Training (SCT), adapted from Tibetan Buddhist (and other) contemplative traditions, which helps people in caring professions cultivate increasingly inclusive and sustainable compassion that avoids empathic distress and burnout.

Mutual Frustration among Friends as a Source of Inter-religious Learning

Sunday, April 8, 6–7:15pm

Alumni House, Boston College
825 Centre St. Newton

Lecture is preceded by dinner and followed by a social event.
Please RSVP (requested) at slaterbe@bc.edu

For more information, contact Engaging Particularities engagingparticularities.com

